PRAYER CHAIN ~ Contact Janet Creager at 419-592-5799

Dear Parishioners:

Advent is not only a penitential time, is a time of rejoicing. Christians proclaim that the Messiah has indeed come and that God's reign is at hand. During these days we are invited to quietly prepare our hearts and our lives for the coming of the Son of God in the flesh.

In today's second reading, St. Paul's Letter to the Philippians tells us to rejoice in the Lord always. The rejoicing to which St. Paul invites us, and which forms the heart of the Advent season is what we must seek. The question always arises as we ask why? Why rejoice when there is suffering, pain, and sorrow in the world and our lives? The answer is our relationship with the Lord, which can even become stronger and more intimate in times of persecution and suffering. The joy is not in our circumstance; it is often in spite of our circumstance. Rather it is in the Lord that we can all find our joy.

Sheer joy arises out of a deep and abiding relationship with God that carries the believer through all sorts of trials and tribulations. Rejoicing in the Lord is a sort of adoration, and adoration often takes the form of prayer. The opposite of rejoicing and happiness is not sorrow, but deadness that often manifests itself through cynicism, meanness of spirit and smallness of mind and heart.

This Advent, may the example of John the Baptist give us the strength and courage necessary to transform our deserts into gardens, and our emptiness into rich Catholic meaning and experience. May the boldness of St. Paul and the example of Mary, Virgin Daughter of Zion, teach us how to rejoice in the Lord, whose coming is very near.

Peace,

Fr. Doug

FROM THE SCHOOL

Miss Barb visited the preschool and kindergarten before Thanksgiving with her Turkey theme. She played a CD song, Mr. Turkey from Holiday Piggyback, and read the following books: Animals on the Farm: Turkeys by Kari Schuetz, Turkeys by Mari C.Schuh, Turkeys by Leo Statts, I'm No Turkey by Hans Wilhelm, and Emma had a Little Turkey by Mary Lee.

The December issue of Partners in Faith emphasized helping families raise lifelong disciples and centering family life on prayer, Sacraments, and joyful worship. A few highlights were:

Children of all ages enjoy gifts on Christmas morning, but Catholic parents know there is so much more to Christmas than presents.

Faith doesn't always require understanding. Mary's "yes" to God demonstrates complete faith despite imperfect understanding. Her path is one we all want to tread.

Our popular Why Do Catholics Do That? feature explains the importance of handing down worship and faith to our children.

We get so caught up in the season, the running around, buying gifts, and other activities that we tend to forget "the reason for the season". I am one of those persons. It is the birth of the Christ child. Please take time to attend Mass and pray for all the good things that have happened this past year. I am thankful to be able to work with the students and staff at St. Augustine Catholic School. This has been the BEST six years of my life, and I will miss it.

I do not say this enough. The school staff and students appreciate the donations to Catholic Education that are collected monthly. We want to thank you for this extra money that we receive to help pay for the running of the school. Your kindness and generosity make this school and parish what they are today.

Jim George, Principal
