BULLETIN DEADLINE - Tuesday noon

Dear Parishioners:

As we read this Gospel we must remember that the presence of Jesus remains to give us comfort. Jesus' prediction of the destruction of the temple provoked questions that the four disciples put to Him in private regarding the time and the sign when all these things are about to come to an end (Mark 13:3-4). We find in Mark's Gospel instruction and consolation encouraging the disciples and the Church to faith and obedience through the trials that would confront them. No one but the Father knows the precise time, or that of the end of the world (Mark 13:32); hence the necessity of constant vigilance. Anyone who says they know the end of time should not be believed!

Mark's Gospel teaches us that all who follow Jesus will be put to the test. They will be tested by great affliction or by powerful seducers who do signs and wonders to lead them astray. They will be tested by the ordinary routines of daily existence and by physical desires. Whatever the form of the tests we face, Mark tells us that we must remain vigilant and pray. We shall be put to the test, but we need not fear.

It's important that we never lose sight of the bigger picture of salvation history as we face the setbacks, losses and tragedies of daily life. As Christians, we are invited each day to respond to the discussions of hope and gloom, which often have obsessed our world. Today's Gospel in the end invites us to ask ourselves if we are satisfied with the quality of our love and service if today was our last in this world? The apocalyptic message today could sound gloomy, but when we look more closely at the Good News we see that the Son of Man will come to rescue His people!

Peace,

Fr. Doug

We would like to offer our heartfelt sympathy to Linda Klamer and Amanda and Casey Mohler and their families following the death of Charles Klamer. May Charles now be at peace with our Heavenly Father.

FROM THE SCHOOL

We celebrated National Vocation Awareness Week and spent time in prayer for an increase in vocations to the ordained ministry and consecrated life in the Diocese of Toledo and beyond. Jesus said: "The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest" (Luke 10:2). We offer prayers this week that God will call many from our local community to labor with Jesus in serving the Church as Priests, Deacons, sisters and brothers.

This month's "Partners in Faith" highlights a recent study that found gratitude is connected to happiness in children as young as five years' old. The widely celebrated Thanksgiving holiday provides an amazing opportunity to nurture gratitude and create awareness of the source of our blessings. We are responsible for cultivating thankful hearts in our children and this article offers ideas to accomplish this as a family.

Blessings to your family,
Ginny Minnick, Principal
