Vanity of Vanity...

What element in our carnality drives our resistance? Solomon states in Ecclesiastes 1:2, "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity." Vanity implies something that is useless and impermanent, like vapor rising from a pot of boiling water, and therefore something of little or no value toward accomplishing God's purpose for mankind. The "all" in Solomon's statement includes us.

In Psalm 62.9, it says, "Surely men of low degree are a vapor, men of high degree are a lie; if they are weighed in the balances, they are altogether lighter than vapor."

These are pretty blunt statements, showing that unless something is done to change the value of what we are in reality, what good reason does God have to work with us? Interesting statement and a great thought.

But there is more from God's Word that paints the picture of our unconverted value and the strength of our natural resistance to Him even more acutely. Jeremiah says, "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; who can know it?" "The above all things... implies all things considered evil. This by itself is a vivid comparison... and God does not lie, but He goes beyond that by adding that man's heart is not merely wicked but desperately wicked. This means that at times our heart is without care for danger and recklessly, badly, extremely, furiously, impetuously wicked.

Our Lord adds force to this word-picture by confirming that the heart is the place from which our evil resistance to God is generated. However, an irony comes into play because the heart is the same place that generates to us in our thoughts the belief that we are really something good!

In summarizing the theme of Ecclesiastes, it is in 1 John 2:17 that we hear: how God calls things that are not as though they are. To God, the world is already dead, so He says, "Love not the world, for it is passing away." "Passing away" is a euphemism of dying. To God, the world is a putrefying corpse, but it has not yet been buried. It is a system in the process of self-destructing as a result of the course of vanity and meaningless self-centeredness, and it cannot be any other way because men and demons are operating it. Think of this in terms of the main conclusion of the Book of Ecclesiastes, of the priority that a person ought to set in his life, which is to fear God and keep His commandments. - Fr. Jerry

ONE FAITH ...MANY RELIGIONS

45,000...that's the number! I wonder is Jesus OK with 45,000 Christian Denominations? Wow, that's how many Christian denominations exist in the world today...and more keep coming. I'm wondering if man ever gets it right? In the Gospel of John, Jesus prays to the Father that His followers "may all be one, as You and I are one." With all this, is Christ's prayer just going unanswered? Maybe that is the reason our own prayers may seem to go unanswered. But, what are the chances that out of 45,000 denominations, Catholics just happened to be the correct one by an over whelming majority? I guess that's one good thing.
