FROM THE DESK OF FATHER MIKE

Twenty-Third Sunday of Ordinary Time

My Dear Friends in Christ,

In our fast-paced and frenetic world, sometimes we as humans allow simple issues and situations to become overly complicated and complex. The best approach to most every challenging situation is to stop - take a deep breath - and ask ourselves: "Does this situation/issue/annoyance/etc. really matter? Given our human nature, sometimes we can get worked up over situations that, ultimately, do not matter! Certainly, one of those common situations that can frustrate us is when we have trouble or discord in our human relationships.

Our Gospel this Sunday has some of the best relationship advice ever – and the awesome wisdom it offers is far superior to any advice found in a book, magazine, website, blog, or internet search. Jesus reminds us that it is important to have integrity and truth in our relationships. He encourages us to deal with "difficult" people directly and honestly, and to conduct ourselves in a spirit of charity and truthfulness when we disagree. This can take a lot of courage. It can be so much easier to bypass difficult people immediately and tell someone else about our problem. Many times, we complain to everyone except the person or people the situation involves!

Of course, then there are the people who no matter how reasonable and peaceful we may be, no matter how many loved ones and others can try to get them to understand, no matter what we do and how we do it - they cannot (or will not) make an effort to see, to change, and to understand. In these situations, we simply pray for them and ask God to give them the grace of heart that one day they may change, and truly see. I know some people like this in my life - how about you?

This week, let us commit to living life with integrity and truth, in all that we say and all that we do. The truth is not always easy to accept, and confrontation can be challenging. But, if we act out of charity, the truth will in the end, indeed set us free.

It is a joy and blessing to serve you as your Pastor,

Fr. Michael
+ JMJ +

FROM THE SCHOOL

The first full week of school is behind us, and it has been wonderful to see our students learning, growing, and settling into their routines! As we begin the school year, here are a few tips to help your child(ren) have a successful and productive year. 1. Make Homework a Priority: Check your child's agenda each day and establish a consistent time and place for completing homework. A regular homework routine helps students develop responsibility and strong study habits. 2. Create a Dedicated Study Space: Providing a quiet, organized area for homework sends a clear message that learning is important. Be sure to encourage your child and celebrate their effort and accomplishments. 3. Prioritize a Good Night's Sleep: Adequate rest is essential for learning, concentration, behavior, and overall well-being. Establishing a consistent bedtime routine can make a significant difference in your child(ren)'s success at school. 4. Read Together Every Day: Reading with your child is one of the most valuable investments you can make in their education. Daily reading strengthens literacy skills, fosters a love of learning, and creates meaningful opportunities for family connection!

Blessings to your family,
 Ginny Minnick, Principal
